

Harold A. Throckmorton Retains New Jersey State Tennis Title in Straight-Set Match

Local Player Beats Botsford At Montclair

Champion Too Fast for Young Opponent; Final in the Doubles To-day

By Fred Hawthorne

Harold A. Throckmorton, the playing through singles champion, held fast to his honors yesterday afternoon by defeating Willard H. Botsford, of New York, by a score of 6-3, 6-2, 6-4, in the final round of the annual New Jersey state championship lawn tennis tournament, on the clay courts of the Montclair Athletic Club.

From start to finish of this match the young champion looked the winner. There was a snap to his strokes, a finality to his finishing shots that quite eclipsed anything that Botsford could put forth. Not only this, but Throckmorton was far more speedy in covering his court, Botsford appearing slow in comparison. Again it was the English youth's lack of aggressiveness that told heavily against him, particularly when the defending champion set sail after the points in dead earnest.

Two matches were played in the doubles, the winners going into the semi-final brackets. In the upper half of the draw the new and promising team of Fred C. Anderson and Ben Letson, runners-up for the Eastern New York State doubles title last week at Amherst, defeated the tested team of Alrick Man Jr. and Cedric A. Major by a score of 6-4, 6-3.

Veterans Win Match

In the other match the veteran pair, Alfred D. Hammett and Embree Henderson, pulled out a fine victory over the younger pair of Hammett and Henderson, after dropping the first set at 1-3 on games in the second session and were apparently headed for a straight-set defeat at the hands of their younger and speedier opponents.

But right at this ticklish period the older pair bounced and proceeded to take the next five games in a row, giving them the set at 6-3, and squaring the match. The loss of the set had a disastrous effect on Emerson and Botsford, and in the third they were again outplayed by Hammett and Henderson, who volleyed cleverly, lobbed occasionally, and gave the youngsters many an opportunity of dropping points on errors, and few of these opportunities were missed. Hammett and his partner took the final set at 6-3.

Hammett Norton, chairman of the tournament committee, who has won the second field in singles and doubles through many obstacles, to wind up scheduled time, announced last night, that the two semi-final doubles matches will begin this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Ichiji Kumagae and Throckmorton will meet Letson and Anderson in the upper half, and in the lower section the opposing pairs will be Hammett and Henderson and Fred C. Anderson and Ben Letson. The winners of these matches will meet in the final and championship match at 5 o'clock.

Service Is Powerful

Throckmorton started the service in his battle with Botsford, giving an imitation of what was to come by his "hammer ball" delivery. The ball shot into court like a thin streak of white, and Botsford was completely at sea in his efforts to handle it. The game went to the champion at "love" in the first set. Throckmorton was broken through more than once, his service was generally one of his chief weapons of attack.

There were several instances during the match when Throckmorton trailed in the points, in which he pulled out the games by putting his service into the "high." It rarely failed him in the trial.

It should not be assumed that Botsford went to defeat easily or without a struggle. His best shot, it seemed to me, was a backhand drive straight down the side lines, usually brought off when receiving service. Throckmorton, changing in from his base line, was so far out of position when some of these shots streaked over the net that he made no attempt to go after them. The match was over when Botsford found a vulnerable spot in the champion's backhand by volleying the ball at sharp angles across the court and very close to the net.

The point score of the singles match follows:

FIRST SET
Throckmorton	4-3-4-5-6-6-42-6
Botsford	0-1-0-1-0-1-4-32-2
SECOND SET
Throckmorton	0-6-4-4-4-1-4-31-6
Botsford	6-3-1-1-1-1-1-22-2
THIRD SET
Throckmorton	4-4-4-1-4-2-4-25-6
Botsford	6-2-1-4-4-2-6-28-4
TOTALS
Throckmorton	101 points; 18 games; 3 sets
Botsford	84 points; 11 games; 0 sets

Tells of Western Trip With Yankees

By W. O. McGeehan

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 12. Dear Moe: We chugust here from Detroit, where there was a convention of all the chiefs of polittz in the United States, and all of them was asking where is it that Willie Macbeth is working now. Lots of the polittz was speaking about him on account he is very popular. The chief of polittz of Detroit say that Willie should kindly return his badge which he lost it the last time he done business with him, and if he couldn't do that he should return the deputy's handcuffs on account they was a gift and a lot of sentiments was attached to them besides Willie when he left Detroit for that night.

You know that it was so I should get the political sentiment of the country that I left my business in New York. I could told you right now what it is. Everybody says that the Yankees team of baseballers would win in a walk. Some of the socialists party is saying that they should build the fences further away from the home plate, but most of the woters is saying "Let them hit it."

There was so much talking going on at Chicago that nobody could hear what it is that people is thinking about, and I wouldn't go to Chicago anyhow on account of me and Ring Lardner, the Saturday Night Post writer, was thrown out from the Hotel Blackstein once. They ought to ask us like chentlemen we should get out instead they should throw us out, and I wouldn't go back when I am treated that way.

Everywhere we are going there is a crowd and they are all saying, "Which one is Baby Ruthstein?" It was like when I was in Kovno and the Czar of Russia would come to town and everybody would turn out to say, "Hello!" to him. The Czar wasn't a bad feller when he had it, but Baby Ruthstein is a good feller, and he has still got it. If he would run on the thoid ticket and tell the truth about the Eighteen Amendment he would win the electionings in a walk.

People Happy in Canada

You could see very good how rotten is the Eighteen Amendment in Detroit because across the river it is Canada, which it is a free country and they ain't got no Eighteen Amendment and people was very happy.

You could told the chief that he shouldn't print so much about that league of nations because I ain't heard one feller talking about it on the whole trip. Everybody is talking about the American League, and that the Yankees team of baseballers would win it the pennants. It is only in Washington where they know about the league of nations and Washington is a rotten baseball town and it awlays was. Walter Pippstein told me personally that the infield was so rotten there you couldn't tell which way the baseballs would bounce. Maybe that is what is the matter with Congress. The infield is fooling them. Anyhow, something is fooling them the way they have been acting.

It is my idee that these conventions should give it a nomination to some fellers that people knows. Baby Ruthstein could head the ticket and any good three hundred hitter could run for Vice-President because the Vice-President never would come to bat anyhow, and he would awlays be sitting on the bench. Give it the Vice-President chob to Truck Hagah because he enchroys sitting down, anyhow.

If you should see Sir Tomashefsky Lipstein, the yacht boat racer you should give it to him my best regards and told him that I hope the Shamrock would win it the yacht boat racing. Also you should told him about a good scheme that I got for him. He should train it a lot of sharks and hitch them up to the Shamrocks on the day of the race and they would make his yacht boat go faster.

No Charge for This Idea

I wouldn't charge him nothing for the idee on account he is a good friend of mine, but we could make it a bet on the Shamrocks and clean up. He should pay me a little commission though, on account I'm advertising his tea all along these big foreign cities of Detroit Cleveland, Chicago and St. Louistene. Everywhere I am asking, "I would like it a cup of Sir Thomashefsky Lipstein's best tea on account that it how I got my brains by drinking it." And when people see how much brains I got it will be a swell ad for the tea. Also, I am telling them that Baby Ruthstein couldn't hit it a run home till he has it a cup of Lipstein's tea, so it is fine for the run homes as well as for the brains. Of course that ain't true. My brains chust come natural, but I would use them to help a friend.

In Detroit people wouldn't notice me because I didn't have no automobile. In Detroit if you don't own it your own automobile you could be arrested for wagnancy and non-support of Henherry Fordstein, which he is making them all. I would have had an automobile all right, but that convention of chiefs of polittz was there, and it wasn't a good time to get one. My brains told me that.

I am glad that the convention was at Chicago because I am going there afterwards, and after the copvention brains would be a novelty and I would be appreciated. But I want that those fellers at the Hotel Blackstein should ask me to get out like a chentleman and not kick me down stairs because when they done that I didn't know if it was a choke or they wanted me to get out. I could understood English better when they don't say it with bricks or their feet.

Moe, I ask you as a friend not to drink up the comicals or try to bust open the safe, because nothings is in it but my war rich insurance receipts and the papers that shows I was honorably fired from the signaling corpse of the United States Army, and was paid sixty dollars bogus which was all spent for alivowitz. Yours truly,

IZZY KAPLAN.

New York Boy Athletes Win P. S. A. L. Title

Embryo No. 10 Champions, Manhattan, Get 33 Points; 1919 Winners Unplaced

Schoolboy athletes from Manhattan once again swamped opponents from the other four boroughs in the annual elementary school games of the greater City, which were held at Brooklyn Athletic Field yesterday morning. Only one Bronx and one Brooklyn school were among the first eight in the point score. Public School 10, of Manhattan, finished first with 33 points.

P. S. 62, Manhattan, which has captured the team title more often than any other school, had the contest with second place, 8 points behind, while P. S. 14, Manhattan, last year's winner, was strangely absent from the list of point scorers. Almost twelve hundred schoolboys, representing more than fifty schools, competed.

No records were broken. S. Goldstein made a very creditable jump of 15 feet 6 inches in the running broad jump (100-pound class). The record in this division is 16 feet 11 inches. In the 40-yard dash (75-pound class) J. Unger came within a fifth of a second of equalling the record of 8.1 seconds.

The summaries:

40-yard dash (75-pound class)—Won by J. Unger, P. S. 10, Manhattan, 8.1 seconds; second, P. S. 10, Brooklyn, 8.2 seconds; third, P. S. 10, Brooklyn, 8.3 seconds; fourth, P. S. 10, Brooklyn, 8.4 seconds.

100-yard dash (100-pound class)—Won by P. S. 10, Manhattan, 21.5 seconds; second, P. S. 10, Manhattan, 22.0 seconds; third, P. S. 10, Manhattan, 22.5 seconds; fourth, P. S. 10, Manhattan, 23.0 seconds.

Ted Meredith Fails to Place in 'Come Back'

Meyer Also Unable to Gain Prize in N. Y. A. C. Meet at Travers Island

Picturesque surroundings, combined with ideal weather conditions, afforded an ideal setting for the 104th games of the New York A. C. at its beautiful country home, Travers Island, yesterday. The natural grandstand, consisting of gently sloping green hills, was a brilliant scene, and presented an animated appearance caused by the brightly colored gowns of the fair sex, of which there were a large number present.

Both Ted Meredith, the former champion of the University of Pennsylvania, and Alvah Meyer, the old-time sprint champion, attempted "come-back" stunts, but neither could obtain a place in the finals. Meyer, however, was placed in his heats in the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

Loren Marchison, one of the fastest sprinters in the athletic game, proved to be the winner of the 100-yard dash, just losing out to Bernie Wefer, jr., of the N. Y. A. C., at the tape. His time was 10 seconds.

The feature event of the day was the one-mile walk, which was won by Curtis of the U. S. Naval Academy. In defeating Loren Marchison, N. Y. A. C., second hand, Baker and Robert Crawford Curtis was forced to turn in the fast time of 4 minutes 21 seconds, the best time shown on Travers Island since Kiviat hung up his running shoes.

Bill Plant, of the Morningside A. C., and Joe Peerman, of the N. Y. A. C., started from the honor mark in the one-mile walk, but neither of these stars was able to overcome a thirty-second handicap allotted to Thomas A. Moroney, St. Anselm's A. C.

Bob Crawford, the Lafaette star, ran the fastest half mile of his career in winning from Homer Baker and Tommie Campbell, of Yale, in 1:55.2.5. These three runners were all on the stretch mark. A. B. Helfrich, of the Winged Foot aggregation, with the aid of an 18-yard handicap, managed to nose out Campbell for second place. Baker made his effort too late, and had to be content with fourth place.

The century run was a spirited fight between Loren Marchison, N. Y. A. C., and his team mate Bernie Wefer, jr. The Western star came through with a final burst of speed and broke the tape in ten seconds.

Ted Meredith, attempting his "come-back" in the 440-yard handicap, started from scratch, but found the pace too hot and could do no better than secure fourth place. James Driscoll, of the United States Naval Academy, and Boston A. A. star, also a scratch man, finished third. R. Desgair, Glencoe A. C., won the event with a handicap of thirteen yards in 50 seconds.

Meredith, the Olympic champion, made a same attempt, but lack of form caused by a long lay-off from the track was too much of a handicap for him.

In the running high jump A. Abromet, Morningside A. C., was an easy winner, with an actual jump of 6 feet 6 inches, with an actual throw of 11 feet 6 inches. A. C. (5 inches), with an actual jump of 5 feet 8 inches, with an actual throw of 10 feet 8 inches.

Throwing the discus (handicap)—Won by Robert G. Walker, New York A. C. (10 feet), with an actual throw of 128 feet 10 inches. Pat O'Connor, Laughlin Lyceum (12 feet), with an actual throw of 117 feet 11 inches. Thomas J. Anderson, Jr. (11 feet), with an actual throw of 115 feet 9 inches.

Pole vault (handicap)—Won by R. M. Buehler, Glencoe A. C. (15 inches), with an actual vault of 11 feet 6 inches. George A. C. (5 inches), with an actual vault of 10 feet 8 inches. Ralph Runyon, New York A. C. (8 inches), with an actual vault of 12 feet, third.

Running broad jump (100-pound class)—Won by S. Goldstein, P. S. 62, Manhattan, 15 feet 6 inches. E. Thoma, P. S. 83, Brooklyn, 14 feet 6 inches. J. Unger, P. S. 10, Manhattan, 14 feet 6 inches. J. Unger, P. S. 10, Manhattan, 14 feet 6 inches.

Running broad jump (100-pound class)—Won by S. Goldstein, P. S. 62, Manhattan, 15 feet 6 inches. E. Thoma, P. S. 83, Brooklyn, 14 feet 6 inches. J. Unger, P. S. 10, Manhattan, 14 feet 6 inches. J. Unger, P. S. 10, Manhattan, 14 feet 6 inches.
